

VIENNA INTERNATIONAL SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING FAIR

The Vienna Chapter of the Institute of Nuclear Materials Management (INMM) will again sponsor the Vienna International Science and Engineering Fair. The fair is scheduled to be held on 26 March 2011 at the American International School which is located in the 19th District in Vienna. As in the past, the success of this Science Fair requires the volunteer efforts of a number of people.

We are taking this opportunity to request your participation as a judge for the Science Fair. This is an excellent opportunity to utilize your talents and experience in a very worthwhile community project. Individuals, who have served as judges in the past, have indicated that this is a very enjoyable and rewarding experience.

As a judge you will be asked to evaluate the results of several science projects prepared by Middle School and High School students from Vienna area international schools. The projects will be divided into several categories in Junior and Senior Divisions. If you agree to be a judge, you will have the opportunity to select which category and division you would prefer. In most cases, we will be able to accommodate your wishes.

The schools that have participated in the past and expected to participate this year are:

American International School	Danube International School
Japanese School of Vienna	Lycée Français of Vienna
Russian School of Vienna	Vienna Christian School
Vienna International School

For your information in determining your availability, we are providing the schedule of activities that is planned for judges.

Judges Briefing at a Heurigen	23 March (Wednesday) 19:00
